

HISTORY AND POLITICS OF GLOBALISATION AND HUMAN RIGHTS:

General Information:

The course will follow the Spring semester's calendar of the Syracuse University in Florence.

It will start on January, 21 and will end on April, 21. Class will be every Tuesday from 15,10 to 18,10 in Villa Rossa, Syracuse University in Florence, piazza Savonarola 15, Florence.

Midterm break: March, 10 (no class);

Easter Holidays: April 14 (no class). One class will exceptionally be scheduled on a date which will be communicated asap to make up for this class.

Students from the University of Florence and Erasmus students will have access to all SUF's facilities, included the library, and to intercultural students' activities:

<http://suabroad.syr.edu/florence/student-life/intercultural-activities/>

Please, check the UNIFI and SUF's websites (<https://www.development-lm.unifi.it/upload/sub/StudyPlan/Booklet-2019-2020-EconomicsAndDevelopment.pdf>; <http://suabroad.syr.edu/florence/>), or write to the teacher (lucia.re@unifi.it) for further information. A more detailed syllabus will be ready by the beginning of January.

Students who will not be in Florence at the beginning of the course, are kindly asked to get in touch with the teacher as soon as possible. Erasmus and other international students who will arrive in Florence in March will be admitted to attend class and take the exam as attendant students (with supplementary take-home work that will be discussed with the teacher), only if they contact the teacher by the end of February, otherwise they will be admitted to take the exam as non-attendant students.

A good level of English (B2 level of the Common European Framework) is required.